

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A light-emitting device having an organic semiconductor layer and a control electrode electrically coupled to the semiconductor layer, the organic semiconductor layer being 5 provided between a first electrode and an emission layer and having an absorption band within an emission wavelength band of the emission layer.